TAR SPRINGS A WEDDING GIFT.

Mrs. Lillian C. Parker Marries an Artist From Denmark.

Nemesius Nielsen and Mrs. Lillian C. Parker were united in marriage in Louisville Thursday. The ceremony was quietly solemnized in a private parlor at the Galt House at 9:30 o'clock. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen came here from Louisville and went immediately to the summer resort, Tar Springs, which was given to the bride as a wedding present from her father, Mr. W. T. Halliday.

Mrs. Nielsen is a delightful woman, and has made a number of friends in this city since she has been living at Tar Springs. She is largely responsible for the church and Sunday-school being organized at the resort, and she has a beautiful influence in her social and church circles.

Mr. Nielsen is formerly from Denmark, but has been making his home in Chicago where he met his bride two years ago. He is an artist and has had charge of the decorating of Macaulay's theater, in Louisville, this past summer.

Slender Retracted by Rev. Hunt.

"To the Public: It is because I wish to wrong no man that this statement is made. On two occasions recently in addressing myself to the temperance question, I have given publicly the report that the liquor interests of Kentucky were willing to put up a campaign fund of $100,000 in order to secure the election of A. E. Willson, the Republican candidate for Governor."

"My words as to this league between Mr. Willson and the liquor interests were made upon what appeared to be high authority."

"Since making the remarks above referred to, I have been thoroughly convinced that the story has no foundation in fact, and so I not only withdraw my words, but express my profound regret that I should have provided by what I thought good authority, to the giving of currency to a false story."

M. P. HUNT.

Information has been received here that Beyron Roberts was killed by train No. 114, on the L. & N. St. L. railway Monday afternoon near Falcon. Roberts had fallen asleep on the track and the approaching train did not awaken him. Roberts formerly lived at Dukes and was a farmer, but recently moved to Lewisport. He was fifty-five years of age and left a wife and four children.

Two of a Kind.

JOE FITCH.

J. C. CARICO.

Just this past week Mr. F. Ferry asked Mr. Joe Fitch why he did not notice him when he spoke coming home on the train from Louisville two weeks ago Friday night. Mr. Fitch replied that he had not been on a train before that time for several days, and he was speaking not to him but to his double, J. C. Carico. Occurrences like this are experienced most frequently by both Mr. Fitch and Mr. Carico. They resemble each other so greatly that even their best friends are many times completely fooled as was Mr. Ferry.

The two men are not related and met only two years ago. Mr. Carico is connected with the Standard Oil Co., with headquarters at Owensboro, and travels in this and surrounding counties where Mr. Fitch has many relatives and friends. Mr. Fitch is foreman of the wood shop of the Henderson Route here and is serving his second term as city commissioner for thirty-seven years of age, and Mr. Carico is a year younger. They are both married and have families.

THOUGHT HE WAS GETTING NEAR HIS DAUGHTER.

Mr. Ulrich Farber Struck By Train And Died Within A Few Minutes.

Wednesday morning about 9:30, Ulrich Farber, one of Cloverport's oldest citizens, was struck by a L. & N. St. L. passenger train, No. 112, near the Henderson Route Shops and only drew one or two breaths before he died. The accident, though a great shock to his family and friends, was not a surprise for he had feared death would come to him this way. He seemed to have a mania for walking the railroad track, which ran on the street where he lived and his family, many times in the last few months, have tied the gates to keep him at home. He often walked to the railroad shops because he thought he was getting nearer his daughter, Russell Hawkins, who lives in Seattle, Washington.

Mr. Farber's body was put on the train immediately and taken to the depot, and as soon as Coroner Lee Bishop arrived from Hardinsburg, an inquest was held.

Mr. Farber was eighty-three years of age. He was born in Bravaria, Germany, and sailed to this country when he was a young man. After his arrival he lived in Louisville two or three years, then came to Cloverport and in 1865 he was married to Miss Isabelle Ray, who died two years ago. Mr. Farber was a tailor and worked constantly until the last three years.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church but he requested his funeral be held from the Baptist church and that the services be held by the Rev. James Lewis, who conducted his wife's funeral. The arrangements were carried out at his wish and his funeral took place at 2:30 Thursday afternoon. The remains were interred in the Cloverport cemetery.

The Cloverport Graded and High School, of which Mr. Farber's grandsons, Louis and J. P. Dittenbaugh are pupils, was dismissed and the teachers and scholars attended the funeral services.

The following children survive him: John and Addison Farber, Mrs. Kate Dittenbaugh, with whom he made his home, and George Farber, of Fidelity, Wash., and Will Farber, who is in the United States Army.

ANTI M. O. TIDE RISING.

Many Defeats In Many Places In The Last Few Months.

The rising of the tide of public resentment against municipal ownership is shown by the many defeats it has suffered during the past few months. Among those recently unrecorded in these pages are the following:

The voters of Canon City, Colo., declared against constructing municipal waterworks.

In Hot Springs, S. D., M. O. candidates for aldermen were defeated in every ward.

The expenditure of $50,000 to $65,000 to develop electrical power was voted down in Shelburne, Ont.

In Shullsburg, Wis., the vote was nearly six to one against bonding the city for an electric light plant.

The committee appointed by the town of Winchester, Mass., to investigate the subject of municipal lighting reported as follows:

"The committee is unanimously of the opinion that the town should not at this time undertake to own or control any municipal lighting plant, nor should it, in the opinion of the committee, engage in the manufacture or distribution either of electricity or gas for municipal use or for the use of its inhabitants."

Trat Cathart treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These treatments are proving to the people without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cathart Remedy. Sold by All Dealers.

Galea Well Out of It.

The electric light plant of Galea, Ill., was installed in 1898 at a cost of $18,000. It was sold the other day for $13,000, but this price included a twenty-five year light, power and traction franchise. Under the new contract the city will get practically twice the amount of street lighting that was furnished by the municipal plant at only 10 per cent greater cost. The next day the city council approved the sale of the plant with unanimous approval of the mayor and city council, as the plant had not been a success. One account of it says:

"Its management was changed as often as new political cliques gained power, and at times there was no street illumination at all. The commercial service was inferior."

MISLEADING ESTIMATES.

Why Municipal Lighting Plants Generally Cost More Than Expected.

It is most unusual for a municipal lighting plant to be erected at a cost that comes anywhere near the estimate presented to the city officials. In some cases these officials are directly to blame for accepting the estimates of representatives of manufacturing companies, who are, of course, more anxious to make a sale than to protect the citizens from ultimate disappointment. When an electrical engineer is called upon for an estimate it might seem as though the council had done its full duty, but unfortunately, in some cases at least, the temptation to secure a percentage on the construction cost is great enough to overcome professional honor, and estimates are submitted which are absolutely inadequate. The only remedy for this would seem to be to obtain an independent estimate from a consulting engineer who would have no further interest in the matter.

Perhaps, however, the most common cause for disappointment is due to the fact that engineers in estimating cost fail to take into consideration what ought to be well known by this time—that cities cannot, as a rule, construct plants at as low figures as private enterprise. This is a feature of municipal ownership which has not been heretofore given the consideration that it deserves.

Cancer Cured by Blood Balm—All Skin and Blood Diseases Also Cured.

Mrs. M. L. Adams, Fredonia, Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm, which effectually cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. The sores healed up perfectly. Many doctors had given up her case as hopeless. Hundreds of cases of cancer, eating sores, suppurating swellings, etc., have been cured by Blood Balm. Among others, Mrs. B. M. Guernsey, Warrior Stand, Ala. Her nose and lip were raw as beef, with offensive discharge from the eating sore. Doctors advised cutting, but it failed. Blood Balm healed the sores, and Mrs. Guernsey is as well as ever. Botanic Blood Balm also cures eczema, itching humors, sores and scales, bone pains, ulcers, offensive pimples, blood poisons, carbuncles, scrofula, risings and bumps on the skin and all blood troubles. Improves the digestion, strengthens weak kidneys. Druggists, $1 per large bottle, with complete directions for home cure. Sample free and prepaid by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and special medical advice sent in sealed letter.

Would Forfeit Vast Revenues.

As long ago as 1902 the then $17 street railways paid to the various municipalities and the total is now fully $25,000,000 a year. Municipal ownership would forfeit that great sum as state and municipal revenue.—Walter J. Ballard in Los Angeles Times.

No Exposure For Him.

"Now, here I am the enthusiastic real estate agent to the prominent politician, 'is one of the most desirable houses in the capital. It has exposed all around it."

"Good heavens," cried the prominent politician, with a start of dismay, "that's just what I'm trying to get away from!"—Baltimore American.

Woman's World

Marrying a Fop—She Who Gives Without Asking Returns—More Tact Is Needed In Bringing People Together.

"Don't marry a fop!" remarks a magazine supposed to elevate the taste of young women and sharpen their wit as far as matters matrimonial are concerned.

But I have something to say for the opposite side of the question. Girls, don't marry a man who is sloopy in his appearance, or you will suffer even worse than if you married a fop. The tendency of a great many men is to be careless of their clothes. If there is anything maddening to a proud, well-dressed woman it is to see her husband shabbily dressed, with an indifferent tie and unpollished boots. She is positively ashamed to go out on the street with him. No amount of nagging will make a man who is fond of what he calls "his comfort" change. He doesn't realize how his appearance spoils his chances of success.

No girls, if you want to be on the safe side, pick out a man who thinks something of his appearance, even if there are people nearer minded enough to call him a fop.

The Unselfish Giver.

They were talking of a very popular woman and they couldn't exactly fix the secret of her success. There were other women prettier, others as well dressed, others with more money, with better manners even.

"I think I know why," remarked an old lady who had been silent during the discussion. "Mrs. B. never does favors in the hope of receiving something in return. If she sends you a gift at Christmas you know it is not because she hopes to be invited to your party in January. Then, too, she is not perpetually offended at fancied slights. You don't feel you must include her in everything under penalty of facing a disagreeable coldness or an explanation. She is just your friend because she is fond of you—not for any other reason. Anything she does is because she wants to give you pleasure; half the time she won't let you thank her."

How many women do you know of this description? We cannot always be marvels of tact. We have some things we can't avoid saying, and one of them is, "Why, how dreadful you are looking!" when we meet a friend on the street who is pale from being a little bit tired or worried, perhaps. I am not a Christian Scientist, but I do believe strongly in the power of suggestion. Make a remark like that to any one who is a bit depressed and she will feel ten times worse and will like a sensitive plant in the sun.

A remark like that simply takes all the courage out of a person, where a few cheerful words would send her on her way positively invigorated. If you can't say cheerful, inspiring things to people, then let them do the talking!

More Tact Needed.

Some women have no sense when it comes to inviting people. They will bring together the Highbrows, who only care for Wagner's music, and Mr. and Mrs. Williero, who care for any songs. Then they will entertain the quartet with sentimental ditties rasped out by a phonograph. Better a company with congenial people than the most gorgeous course dinner during which they are mildly thinking what you can say to take that bore, Caesar. Many are restrained however by the fear of fever and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarious influence with these Bitters on hand. Can blood poison, too, biliousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed by Sevens Drug Co. 50c.

TEES NOT CHARGED

Strange Omissions In the Chicago Lighting Plant Report.

It Places the Annual Total Cost Per Lamp at $52.39—No Account Taken, However, of Lost Taxes, Water, Depreciation, Rent or of Half a Dozen Other Important Elements of Expense—Biggest M. O. Plant in the Country—Its Service as Poor as Its Report is Misleading.

The largest municipal electric light plant in the United States is the one operated by the city of Chicago. Naturally students of municipal ownership turn to its reports as one of the principal sources of information on the subject. Unfortunately, however, these reports have been so worded as to give the false impression that the municipal lights cost the city much less than if they were supplied by contract with a private company.

Newspapers all over the country have announced that Chicago's street lights during 1906 cost only $52.39 per lamp, and they are not to be blamed for making the assertion. The twelve pages of the report for that year $52.39 is given as the "total cost per lamp." It is true that elsewhere in the report this statement is modified by the admission that this "cost" doesn't include interest, lost taxes, water, depreciation, rent of offices and poles, judgments against the city on account of accidents, a proportion of the cost of the offices of the controller, auditor, business agent and other branches of the city government, etc. But the edge is taken off this admission by the further statement that "the cost of $52.39 includes all expenses actually borne by the city," a statement by the way, which is not even technically true.

The report admits that "there is some justice in the contention" that these items should be charged against the lighting cost, but it makes this admission only after years of refusal to do so, and does so now because of an investigation into the workings of the plant that has recently been made, and the findings of which will soon be published.

Six years ago the Reform club of New York employed a well known firm of accountants to find out what Chicago's lights were really costing. At that time the city claimed a cost of $62.09, but the accountants reported the real cost as $98.88 and made no allowance for damages, street repairs, rent of offices and poles or the lighting department's share of the expense for auditing, purchasing and legal expenses and a very low allowance for depreciation. But the city authorities totally ignored the findings of this disinterested and expert investigation.

The unfairness of the report is further shown by its comparison of the per capita cost of lighting Chicago and five other cities that do not operate municipal lighting plants. In the first place, the street lighting of Chicago is notoriously inadequate, and in the second place, while the rates in the other cities cover the entire cost of lighting, Chicago's include only a fraction of the cost.

Perhaps the most misleading feature of the report is its comparison of the alleged "cost" of the municipal lights with the rates charged by the private company with which the city contracts for 740 of its lamps. These are in the outskirts of the city, where the cost of maintaining them is very high on account of their long distance from the generating station and their remoteness from each other. That is why the city contracts for them. Yet the report assumes that the company would charge just as high a rate if it had the contract for all the lights. This assumption is not only manifestly absurd, but is directly contrary to the facts, as one of the companies offered a reduction of more than one-quarter of its contract price if it were given the entire lighting contract.

In making comparisons the quality of the service is an important consideration, and the service of the Chicago city plant is bad. It cheats the public both by the frequency of outages (lamps going out and staying out the rest of the night) and by stealing its own current—i. e., reducing the amperage below the point at which the current keeps the lamps up to their rated candlepower. In many cases observers have noted that, especially after dark, the lamps give only a dull glow from the carbon points and are of practically no value as lights. This is done to reduce coal consumption and of course makes a great difference in the cost of operation. It would not be wasted from a private company, which would also be penalized for outages. These things are quite naturally not mentioned in the report.

To sum up, the report gives the impression to the casual reader that the municipal plant is giving good service at a low cost, while the facts show that its service is poor and that the cost is much higher than if the lights were supplied by a company.

Health In The Canal Zone.

The high wages paid make it a mighty temptation to our young artisans to join the force of skilled workmen to construct the Panama Canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fever and malaria. ## MEN ADMIRE

A pretty face, a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the healthy, happy, contented woman is most of all to be admired. Women troubled with fainting spells, irregularities, nervous irritability, backache, the "blues," and those dreadful dragging sensations, cannot hope to be happy or popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible. The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. It acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms. No other medicine in the country has received such unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Miss Emma Runtzler, of 631 State St., Schenectady, N. Y., writes: "For a long time I was troubled with a weakness which seemed to drain all my strength away. I had dull headaches, was nervous, irritable, and all worn out. Chancing to read one of your advertisements of a case similar to mine, I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I decided to try it and I cannot express my gratitude for the benefit received. I am entirely well and feel like a new person."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a most successful remedy for all forms of Female Complaints, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and is invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
Women suffering from any form of female weakness are advised to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1907

Nothing doing in this county in the way of politics. But there'll be something doing 't' when Boss Milt and Boss Gus get their machines in working order.

Kentucky for Roosevelt! Sure! By an overwhelming majority. We don't believe there is a man in Kentucky, be he Democrat or Republican, who, deep down in his heart, would not be glad to see Mr. Roosevelt president for the next four years.

There has been some good work done
on the road from Stephensport to Union Star—the best in years. The man who did it knew something about road working. That kind of work pays.
It satisfies the traveling public and the tax-payer.

50,000 people attended the State Fair
Monday, 17,000 of whom were children.
Great day for the people and a glorious beginning for Secretary Hughes. You can't down the young blood of Kentucky when they put their shoulder to the wheel.

We admire Mr. Wilson's position on the Taylor—Powers case. We believe Mr. Wilson would be just as far from parading either without a fair trial or a just cause as Mr. Hagar. Cut the business clear out of the campaign and get on something higher. Good roads would be a mighty question for discussion and it would be a question vital to the interests of all the people.

It is a pleasure to do business with people like the State Fair managers.
They are liberal, broad-minded and public-spirited. No grass grows under their feet. We'd like to see men of their caliber ahead of the State government for about four years. Stock in Kentucky State affairs would be worth 200 for one instead of what it is now, away below par.

Judge Adair thinks we newspaper men ought to let up on our picaresque and fair, says we'll sit and wait over the effects. But the Judge forgets that newspaper men are human and just like other men in some respects, they like to talk about things they help to make. The newspapers of this county have as much to do—or more if you please—with the success of any public enterprise than any other influence.
They are like bankers when they make a good job, loan, and a successful one,
they like to talk it.

Harriman has been out West and things look so good to him that he has announced that he will double track his railroad from Chicago to the Pacific coast. Prosperity, present and prospective, is what is inciting Mr. Harriman to add to the facilities of his big railway system. He will expend about $100,000,000 in doing this; and this means business for everybody. You can't spend a hundred million in this country but what it is felt by every section in the country. We are glad there are Harrimans with nerve, foresight and money.

Another good piece of road working in this county is the one from Hardinsburg to the fair grounds. It's a regular boulevard—a splendid piece of road work, and as smooth as asphalt. It does a man's soul good to drive or ride over it. Do you know how this came about? Just two or three men put their heads together, aroused public sentiment in favor of it, and public sentiment went after the road supervisor and the road was built. Every man, woman and child in Hardinsburg was crying for a good driveway to the fair grounds, and they got it. No ordinary road, thirty feet wide, filled with rocks
as big as your head would satisfy them.
They must have the best, the widest, the smoothest piece of road in the county, and they got it. People get just what they go for in this country. We are glad that public sentiment was aroused sufficiently to build such a splendid driveway. It is a pleasure to ride over a good road, especially in this country, where there are so many good horses and buggies; and what we want is more of just such roads. All we have to do is to put our shoulders to the wheel and we'll get it just like they did at Hardinsburg.

The State Fair and the Owensboro
Fair are both on this week.

Judge Adair says the fair at Hardinsburg beat anything he ever saw. In the way of a fair. "It was better than the Owensboro Fair in its best days," said
the Judge.

If a man had worked that piece of road from Hardinsburg to the fair grounds like the man worked the road from Garfield to Cedar, where would he have been today? Dead!

Squire Vessells didn't have a case on his docket at Union Star last rule day.
He filled in his time, however, playing marbles with the boys. The Squire says he would rather play marbles with time than sit in a case.

SEXTON RESIGNS THIS WEEK

Hawesville Man Will be Manager of Cumberland Telephone Company in This City.

W. C. Sexton, manager of the Cumberland Telephone Company at this place, has tendered his resignation to take effect
this week. Auditor A. D. Johnston, of Nashville, is here closing up the work which has been under Mr.
Sexton's direction and will have everything in readiness at the office for Mr.
J. C. Epley, of Hawesville, who has accepted the position.

Mr. Sexton will have been here two years next May, having formerly lived at Owensboro. He is well liked by the people in Cloverport, and has many friends here and in this county.

Why Kirkwood Shut Down.
Some time ago the city of Kirkwood,
Mo., was reported to have shut down the generating plant of its electric light plant and made a contract for current with a private company. The arrangement was not, however, consummated, for the company, Mayor Ochterbeck claims, did not act in good faith. The mayor gives the further statement in regard to the matter.

"Our plant was built about the year 1901, and on account of its being a municipal matter the city did not get an up to date plant and is today suffering from having a plant that does not meet the requirements, and the cost of production is too high; consequently it does not pay the city if we take into consideration depreciation and the interest on our investment."

Two Diverse Estimates.
The question of installing a municipal lighting plant at Hancock, Mich.,
has been laid at rest for five years at least, a contract for that period having been made by an almost unanimous vote of the aldermen. This matter has been under discussion for some time, and an estimate of the cost of a plant was obtained from an engineer. The amount of this estimate, $15,000, seemed so low that one of the aldermen got another estimate from an entirely disinterested engineer, who figured that the cost would be $38,000.

BRIDGE DISASTER

Great Structure Being Built Across the St. Lawrence Falls With Workmen.

FOUR SCORE LIVES LOST

At Least That Many Men Were Carried to Their Death and Dread List May Grow.

Half Section of Giant Bridge Crumpled Up Taking Workmen Down With It.

Quebec, Que., Aug. 30.—A section of the new bridge across the St. Lawrence river five miles below this city, collapsed late yesterday, carrying scores of bridge-workers and mechanics into the water. It is estimated that the loss of life is at least eighty and may exceed that number.

The bridge was about a mile and a half in length and half of it, from the south shore to mid-stream, crumpled up and dropped into the water.

Ninety men were at work on this section of the structure, and the whistle had just blown at 5:30 for the men to quit work for the day, when there came a grinding sound from the bridge mid-stream. The men turned to see what had happened and an instant later the cry went up, "The bridge is falling!"

The men made a rush shoreward, but the distance was too great for them to escape. The fallen section of the bridge dragged others after it, the snapping girders and cables forming like a crash of artillery. Terror lent fleetness to the feet of the frightened workmen as they sped shoreward, but only a few of them reached safety before the last piece of iron work on the south shore was dragged into the river.

Near the shore the wreckage of the bridge did not go below the surface of the water, and eight workmen who remained above water were rescued and taken to the hospital at Lewis.

The steamer Glenmont had just cleared the bridge when the first section fell. The water thrown up by the debris came clear over the bridge of the steamer. The captain at once lowered boats. The small boats plied backward and forward over the sunken wreckage for half an hour, but there was no sign of life. The twisted iron and steel had its victims in a terrible death grip. A few floating timbers and the broken strands of the bridge toward the north shore were the only signs that anything unusual had happened. There was not a ripple on the smooth surface of the St. Lawrence as it swept along toward the gulf.

All the men drowned were employees of the Phoenixville Bridge company, and sub-contractors of Quebec and Montreal. The Quebec bridge was begun about seven years ago, and it was to be finished in 1909. Subsidies had been granted by the federal and provincial governments and the city of Quebec, and the estimated cost of the work was $10,000,000.

The Phoenixville Bridge company of Pennsylvania had the contract for the construction of the bridge, and were working from both sides of the river. The southern extension of the bridge, which collapsed, was rapidly near the zenith of the immense steel arch which was to span the river. The Quebec bridge was remarkable in that it was to be the longest single span cantilever bridge in the world, the length of the span in the center being 1,800 feet, or 200 feet longer than that of the Fifth bridge, at present the world's longest single bridge span.

Mrs. B. M. Currie and two children, Mary and Eudaly, returned home Wednesday after spending several weeks at Neboe and other places visiting relatives. The ladies of the Methodist church had the new parsonage furnished and in perfect readiness for Mrs. Currie the afternoon of her arrival. A full course supper was prepared and taken to the parsonage for Rev. and Mrs. Currie that evening by the members of the church.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, and your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain in your nerves anywhere, your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nerve which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

when we took charge. We placed them upon the best basis ever before known, and we have the most progressive states in America.

Kentucky is the most generous state of all in the appropriation of her revenues which she gives to the cause of education. Our public school rate she gives 25% cents to the public schools and normal schools, one-half cent to the state college, and 1 cent to the state university. The interest on school bonds, making 29 cents to that cause, leaving only 21 cents for all the general expenses of the commonwealth, and all the branches and its public institutions. Many of the counties of the state have a higher rate than that for their county expenses. In a few years, with the present progress, if the Democratic party is continued in power, we will have a school system equal to the best in the country.

Can anyone point to a single thing done by the Republican administration for the benefit of education? The only thing it did in 1899, when the state camp was held at Louisville, was to pad the figures and created a large deficit in the fund the following year, in order to show as large a per capita as possible for the following year.

New Capital a Fine Structure.

We have nearly finished a new capitol building, costing for the completed structure, one million and five hundred dollars. In beauty and magnificence it is unquestionably the handsomest capitol to be found in any of the Southern states. It will be as good as new for as few of the other capitol buildings in the country. It will not be inferior in architecture and beauty to the capitol of any state. It will be a credit to a Republican administration at a cost of $13,000,000. When compared to the cost per cubic foot of every capitol built in the past generation in any state, this capitol has cost less than any, in fact only about half of what the lowest in other states have cost. It is pronounced by all who have seen it as a superb structure and splendidly built. To the criticism of our enemies we need only answer, "Go and look at it." The marvel is that so much could have been done and done so well for the money used. When completed in a few months it will be a building worthy of the pride of our people and the admiration of all who behold it.

The Republican candidates, in their scarcity of campaign material, have tried to revive a miserable old slander about the employment of an architect. That question has been thoroughly met and answered before the people. The building cost $13,000,000, making $129,000 cost of site and structure. We shall pay the architect who designed and supervised the construction, and watches its construction, $51,000 for his services, or barely 4 per cent of the cost. Every other state paid an architect 5 per cent of the cost of the government. Every other concern pays a first-class architect.

Mr. Wilson borrows an old falsehood to use in his campaign, which has long since been exposed about certain men who offered to furnish plans for a capitol at $10,000, and that our board turned down his proposition. We did not turn down his proposition because he was dishonest and corrupt. The report of the Texas capitol commission letters he tried to rob that state of the money he had offered to furnish. Wilson knows the record of the man, and it am surprised to learn that he thinks Myers ought to have been given the job. He is a Republican, and he is of his kind of architect and he is Myers' kind of governor, then we might have had in Kentucky a similar example to the Republican-built capitol of Pennsylvania.

Republican Campaign One of Lies.

In every campaign where I have met them, the Republican candidates have seemed to be actuated by the overwhelming conviction that a falsehood told to a hundred people was the best campaign argument if only fifty of them should believe it. It is the only way they can get the better of the truth. Defeated every time when they have made such a fight, it is surprising therefore that they have not been profited by experience and pitched this campaign upon a higher plane. He and his associates have been far back in the mountains trying to impose these well-known slanders upon the good people there. They are especially have they used, one about the public printing work, and the other about fees paid to attorneys. In places far from the railroads, and hard to reach, they have repeated these charges, hoping that no Democratic speakers or representatives would ever get there to correct the false impressions.

In the mountain county of Letcher, where it is a day's horseback ride from the county seat to a railroad, he told with earnestness and vigor that these Democrats at Frankfort had agreed to pay the attorney $85,000, who he knew, or he said he knew, such to be untrue. He or his companion candidates in an effort to catch some Confederate voters, told the good people that the Republican General Assembly who introduced the bill to establish the Confederate Home, when they knew, or ought to have known, the records showed such to be untrue.

Many other similar instances could be named. They have repeated the old charge about extra pay for the payment of public printing bills, when they know that a Republican attorney general approved the bill about which their candidate, that is, a legislative, is orders in order to receive the proceeds. It is certainly unworthy of men who are the law and the contract, and who are the most commonwealth to go out into remote places and peddle such monstrous and well-known deceptions. The only possible excuse for such a course is the desire to prove it, and to praise it would eliminate every chance they have of election.

Shall Not Evade the Issues.

But do not think that they shall evade the issues. This Democratic administration has redeemed every pledge it ever made to the people, and when it is its term at the end of the law, no one will be able to point to a promise it has violated or to a single instance where it has been faithless to its word. It has managed the public institutions of the state better than ever before.

When the Republicans were in conduct of the two penitentiaries was the least of their worst, and they were a great burden upon the taxpayers. Since they came under the control of a Democratic board a revolution in their management has been accomplished in their condition. Now, instead of costing the state large sums to maintain them, they are self-supporting. They have made the most improvements and advancements have been made, too, in the management of all their charitable institutions. They have made the state more economically and successfully controlled—a wide difference from the unfortunate condition in which we found them in 1899.

Great Progress in Past Eight Years.

What has the administration done toward the material and industrial welfare of the state? It may be safely said that in the last eight years greater progress has been made than in the thirty years preceding that found them in 1899. The more capital has been invested in the state in any one year of the last four years of Democratic administration than was invested in the entire time that the Republicans were in power. The state would not happen if business people did not have confidence in the state government and in the enforcement of the laws.

What has the administration done for the farmers and agricultural interests? More than was ever done for them before in all the preceding administrations together. It has put life and vigor into the agricultural department of the state and made it a living, active force for usefulness. The vast good it has done is well known to the farmers. This Democratic administration has also given to the farmers and tobacco raisers a law that more than any other law has done to help them. Every intelligent and fair-minded farmer in the state can testify to the fact that this administration has not neglected their interests, but has done more than all others to build up and advance their business, recognizing that our farmers constitute such a solid citizenship.

What has it done for the miners and mines of the state? Go look at the statistics and find the answer. The production of coal and iron has more than doubled under this Democratic administration, and new mines are being opened up as fast as labor can be secured to work them. The most serious and difficult of that kind have happened here than elsewhere. In several instances the administration has intervened and used its services to bring about peaceful adjustment of the differences. In its general attitude it has been so fair and impartial in its treatment of the two forces that each could see it was just friend of the Democratic administration.

Cause of Temperance Promoted.

What has it done for the great temperance cause? It has made the people so deeply interested? It passed and put into operation the county bill, a measure which gives to each county the right to decide whether or not intoxicating liquors shall be sold in its territory. It does away with the present law and makes the county the unit except as to the larger cities. It has been in operation only a little over one year, and yet in the most conservative estimates have voted out intoxicating liquors entirely, making, in addition to the fifty-eight counties already dry, ninety-three out of the 119 counties in the state absolutely under the local option law. A large part of the remaining twenty-six counties are also under that law. Washington Named Republics Ticket.

You have nothing to expect of the Republican ticket. It was nominated from Washington, by the Federal Reserve Association. The edict was sent to the counties, and the county was nominated for governor, and every opponent he had for the nomination promptly withdrew.

Do not attack the Republican people of Kentucky. I believe in the honesty and patriotism of the masses of that party. I have lived among their associates and have known many warm friends among them. In the many campaigns I have made, frequently I have gone into strong Republican counties and made political speeches to audiences composed of more Republicans than Democrats, and in all of that experience I have never met a man who was not an honest, courteous or disrespectful from the Republican people. If they did not agree with me in opinion they yet treated me with respect. It is not against that party that I was this contest, but against those of their leaders who have misled and deceived them.

It is a notorious fact that the party organization of the Republican party in Kentucky has for years been controlled by those who had at heart more the question of the distribution of federal patronage, than the general welfare of the state.

Hon. C. O. Brooks, Mayor of Sunbury, Ohio, also Attorney for Farmers' Bank and Sunbury Building and Loan Co., writes:

"I have the utmost confidence in the virtue of Peruna. It is a great medicine. I have used it and I have known many of my friends who have obtained beneficial results from its use. I cannot praise Peruna too highly."

HON. C. O. BROOKS.

There are a host of petty ailments which are the direct result of the weather.

This is more true of the excessive heat of summer and the intense cold of winter, but is partly true of all seasons of the year.

Whether it be a cold or a cough, catarrh of the head or bowel complaint, whether the liver be affected or the kidneys, the cause is very liable to be the same.

The weather slightly deranges the mucous membranes of the organs and the result is some functional disease.

Peruna has become a standby in thousands of homes for minor ailments of this kind.

There are a great many people who have slight attacks of indigestion and dyspepsia nearly all the time. Their food may satisfy the appetite but it fails to nourish the body simply because the stomach is not in its condition to do the work it is supposed to do. It can't digest the food you eat. The stomach should be given help. You ought to take something that will do the work your stomach can't do. Kodol for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids, digests the food itself and gives strength and health to the stomach. Pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.
